

Passive backoff: use one of these instructions instead of volatile loops:

Processor instructions for hinting that program is spinning: x86: pause.

ARM: YIELD.

Allows the processor to "do nothing" more efficiently. Reduces energy consumption. Does not induce OS context switch.