

- Zero kernel memory used when there are no waiters
- Waiter queues created on demand: map from address of user-space integer to queue
- Waiter queue disappears when last waiter is woken, reappears if there are more waiters in the future
- The futex system call doesn't care how the userspace code treats the value of the user-space integer